

2017 Benefit for Starpoint School at TCU

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

November 2, 2017

Dinner, Live Band, Special Entertainment & Silent Auction

Dear Friends,

For more than 50 years, Starpoint School at TCU has opened a world of opportunities for children in our community with learning differences, empowering them with confidence and the tools they need to succeed in and out of the classroom.

A part of TCU's College of Education, Starpoint also serves as an active educational laboratory where TCU faculty, staff and students are afforded the opportunity to observe, study, research and participate in a quality educational program for young children ages 6-12 with academic difficulties such as Dyscalculia, Dysgraphia, Dyslexia, Language Processing Disorder, Non-Verbal Learning Disabilities or ADHD.

We invite you to be a sponsor of "All the World's A Stage," a benefit in celebration of the amazing work being done at Starpoint School and to raise important funds. Your support enables Starpoint School to continue its groundbreaking work with children with learning differences alongside aspiring educators as well as to provide scholarships for students in need (currently annual tuition is $15,150).

Join us in our commitment to the ideal that all children can learn.

Sincerely,

Marilyn Tolbert, Ed.D.

STARPOINT'S MISSIONS

Starpoint was founded as the tangible dream of M.J. and Alice Neeley. Their dream was to have a school where children with learning differences could thrive academically and could be taught by aspiring educators.

With this in mind, Starpoint has two mission statements:

- ◆ To provide an individualized academic program to help children obtain tools to compensate for their learning difficulties, build on their own strengths, develop a positive attitude about learning, and perform to the best of their capabilities in their next educational setting.
- ◆ To serve as an on-campus training site for TCU students within the College of Education and other university programs.

THE STARPOINT APPROACH

Children aged six to twelve with learning differences and/or attention deficits that interfere with academic progress attend Starpoint School. The curriculum is individualized to meet the needs of each child and includes the traditional academic subjects – language arts, mathematics, social studies, science, and physical education. Starpoint enhances its learning experiences with nontraditional subjects such as art, music, and technology.

A distinctive feature of the Starpoint curriculum is an emphasis on organizational and study skill acquisition.

Further, faculty members aim to introduce consistency across all academic lessons, helping students apply techniques that they learn across all of their classes.

Starpoint, contrary to most other elementary schools, features no specific grade levels and students are instead grouped based off of their specific needs. Students are, however, divided into Intermediate and Primary Schools.
